GRADUATE FIELD PLACEMENT GUIDE

Department of Criminology
University of Ottawa
2017-2018

Joanne Cardinal
Field Placement Coordinator
Tel: 613-562-5800 ext. 1808
E-mail: joanne.cardinal@uottawa.ca

Geneviève Nault
Field Placement Coordinator
Tel: 613-568-5800 ext. 1816
Email: genevieve.nault@uottawa.ca
Contents

FOREWORD................................................................................................................................................................................................ 3

MASTER’S PROGRAM IN CRIMINOLOGY – FIELD PLACEMENT OPTION ................................................................. 4

WHAT ARE THE OBJECTIVES OF THE FIELD PLACEMENT IN THE MASTER’S PROGRAM? ..................................................... 4

WHAT ARE THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE FIELD PLACEMENT? ................................................................................................... 5

CAN I RECEIVE AN EQUIVALENCY FOR PAST PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE? ................................................................. 5

HOW WILL I BE ASSIGNED TO MY FIELD PLACEMENT? ........................................................................................................... 5

1. Information session .................................................................................................................................................................... 5
2. Orientation Interview .................................................................................................................................................................. 5
3. Registration to the Field Placement (CRM 6400) and Field Placement Seminar (CRM 6345) .................................................... 6
4. Selecting a placement ................................................................................................................................................................. 6
5. Presenting your candidacy to the Field Placement Agency ...................................................................................................... 8
6. Security Clearance ...................................................................................................................................................................... 8
How do I prepare for my placement? ........................................................................................................................................... 9

POLICIES GOVERNING FIELD WORK ........................................................................................................................................... 10

1. The Field Placement Agreement (see template on Field Placement Website) ................................................................. 10
2. Student’s Statement of Ethics (See template on Field Placement Website) .............................................................................. 10
3. Supervision of Field Placement Students ................................................................................................................................ 10
4. Schedule and Work Record (see template on the Field Placement Website) ............................................................ 11
5. Non-Attendance and Holidays ..................................................................................................................................................... 11
6. Evaluation of Field Placement Students .................................................................................................................................. 12
7. Problem-solving in the field placement setting .............................................................................................................................. 12
8. Terminating a field placement ..................................................................................................................................................... 13
9. Workplace safety and insurance coverage ................................................................................................................................. 13
10. Responsibility in case of accident ........................................................................................................................................... 15
FOREWORD

The purpose of this document is to inform students and supervisors of the Master’s Field Placement Program offered by the Department of Criminology. It deals specifically with the policies and procedures that govern the placements. However, it gives but a general outline of each student’s field experience; the specifics will, of course, depend on the type of field placement the student selects and the requirements of the agency. Please note that the guidelines found in this manual are subject to change.
Criminology is devoted to the scientific analysis of the criminalization processes and issues of social control. Criminology is also an applied discipline examining various forms of intervention for the resolution of justice-related problems. It focuses on four broad questions:

- the social construction of norms and the notion of crime;
- the criminalization of specific behaviours, individuals and groups;
- the analysis of the goals and functioning of the criminal justice system;
- the examination of contemporary forms of intervention from both theoretical and practical perspectives.

The Master’s Program in Criminology with the Field Placement option provides an opportunity to observe and analyse criminological practices in the field of criminal justice. The assumption is that theories cannot be studied without referring to their applications in the field.

WHAT ARE THE OBJECTIVES OF THE FIELD PLACEMENT IN THE MASTER’S PROGRAM?

The basic goal of fieldwork cannot be set apart from the objectives of the program as a whole. In fact, the blending of academic analysis with field related activities provides an excellent opportunity for students to examine the relationship between theory and practice and to understand the implications of “applied criminology”.

Given this general framework, the learning objectives are specific to each placement. They are more clearly defined by the student, the Field Supervisor and the Field Placement Coordinator in the Field Placement Agreement. (see section of Field Placement Agreement)

Upon completion of their Field Placement and Field Placement Seminar, students will also be able to demonstrate specific learning outcomes:

1. describe the contributions and limitations of academic (theoretical and empirical) and practical knowledge to the analysis and development of professional practice.
2. critically evaluate the issues and debates related to the concept of “Applied Criminology”.
3. explore the implications of applying “conflicting criminologies” to a particular practice.
4. apply the processes involved in theorizing from practice/fieldwork.
5. discover the importance of becoming a reflective practitioner.
6. explore the importance of being aware of one’s theoretical standpoint and related political views and how they impact practice.
7. analyse the broader social, political, legal and economic context in which criminology is practiced.
8. critically evaluate the foundations of the “profession”.
9. identify the contributions and limitations of “fieldwork” to the analysis of practice.
WHAT ARE THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE FIELD PLACEMENT?

Students registered in the MA with Field Placement Option must complete an approved and supervised field placement (CRM 6400: 6 cr.) and the Field Placement Seminar (CRM 6345: 3 cr.). To meet this requirement, students must complete a minimum of 360 hours in the field; receive positive performance evaluations from the Field Supervisor; and complete all requirements of the Field Placement Seminar. Attendance at the fieldwork seminars is mandatory. A schedule and the requirements of the seminars will be given to the students at the beginning of the academic year.

The Field Placement of the Master’s program is offered during the fourth semester (September to December) of a six semester program (2 years). It is not possible to complete a placement during the Summer or Winter unless it is an international placement organized by the Faculty of Social Sciences.

CAN I RECEIVE AN EQUIVALENCY FOR PAST PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE?

Students registered in the Master’s program with the Field Placement Option may not obtain an equivalency for past professional experience. It is suggested that students who do not wish to complete the placement register for the Master’s programs without the Field Placement Option (MA with Thesis, MA with Major Research Paper).

HOW WILL I BE ASSIGNED TO MY FIELD PLACEMENT?

1. Information session

Students must attend an information session held in the academic year preceding placement in the field. The purpose of this session is to provide general information about placements, guidelines, policies and procedures. These information sessions are organized by the Field Placement Coordinators of the Department of Criminology and normally take place in mid-February. Students are invited to make an appointment with the Field Placement Coordinators for the Orientation Interview at the Information Session.

2. Orientation Interview

In the weeks following the information session, the Field Placement Coordinator meets with students individually. The objectives of this meeting are to complete the registration form, discuss the student’s needs and interests and identify agencies that would meet those needs and interests.

Students must submit the following to the Field Placement Coordinator during the orientation interview:

- a copy of their resume;
- the completed Graduate Course Registration Form
- a list of agencies the student is interested in.

Given the importance of this information in assessing the student’s profile, students who do not provide those documents to the Field Placement Coordinator will have to reschedule their Orientation Interview.
3. Registration to the Field Placement (CRM 6400) and Field Placement Seminar (CRM 6345)

Students register for the Field Placement (CRM 6400) and the Field Placement Seminar (CRM 6345) during the orientation interview since registration cannot be completed using uoZone.

Only those students who have participated in the Information Session, an Orientation Interview and completed the Registration Form available at the following address: https://www.uottawa.ca/graduate-studies/students/forms can register for the Field Placement and the Field Placement Seminar. The form is submitted to the Field Placement Coordinator during the Orientation Interview.

Once the Field Placement Coordinators have met with all students eligible for a field placement, they submit the forms to the Department of Criminology. Registration for CRM 6400 and CRM 6345 is completed by the Department during the summer semester.

4. Selecting a placement

Placements approved by the Department of Criminology

Pre-approved placements are described in a directory prepared by the Department of Criminology. This directory presents the following information (when available) about each placement: general description of the agency, modalities and constraints of the field placement and the general responsibilities of the student.

The directory is organized according to two main types of placements. In the first section you will find placements directly related to frontline individual or group intervention. The second section describes placements available in community development, research, policy analysis and program development.

We attempt to maintain this directory as up to date as possible. Nonetheless, please note that due to unforeseen circumstances (budget cuts, important staff turnover, restructuring of services and programs, etc.) some agencies may decide to not participate in the program at any given time.

The Field Placement Coordinators are available to provide additional information about placement options. Students are encouraged to consult the organization’s websites for additional information. Students cannot communicate directly with field placement agencies unless it has been approved by a Field Placement Coordinator.

Thesis related placements

It can be interesting and advantageous to choose a placement that is related to the thesis research project. Nonetheless, please note that it is prohibited to use the placement experience for the purpose of gathering data unless the student has obtained the necessary approval by the host agency and the University of Ottawa.

Self-initiated placements

Students may obtain permission to do their placement at an unlisted agency by submitting the request to a Field Placement Coordinator. Students must ask the agency to fill out the Field Placement Description Form (available online or with one of the Field Placement Coordinators) which includes the following information: a description of the field placement agency, tasks and responsibilities that will be assigned to the student, supervision and evaluation modalities as well as the name and contact of the person at the agency proposing the placement. The new field placement will then be evaluated to ensure that it meets the Department of Criminology’s objectives and supervision/evaluation modalities. Only agencies that are not in the Field Placement Directory can be contacted by students. The Field Placement Coordinators are available to assist in this process.

International placements

It is also possible for students to register for an International placement. These placements are offered and managed by the Faculty of Social Sciences, in partnership with the Department of Criminology. You will find additional information on International placements offered by the Faculty of Social Sciences at the following link:

http://www.sciencessociales.uottawa.ca/international/stages-internationaux

Please consult the Department of Criminology’s Field Placement Coordinator if you wish to pursue an International placement as certain conditions have to be met.

Placement outside of the region

Students may request to complete their placement in an organization outside the region. The written request must present the reasons that motivate the decision to do a placement outside of the region.

Please note that students who have been given permission to complete a placement outside of the region must complete the requirements of the Field Placement Seminar (CRM 6345). In other words, students must be able to travel to the University to attend the seminar.

In very exceptional circumstances, students may request to be excused from the Field Placement Seminar. This request will be considered only if an equivalent experience cannot be found within traveling distance to the University. This request must be submitted to the Field Placement Coordinator who will present the request to the Graduate Committee. The Graduate Committee makes the final decision. When a student is excused from the Field Placement Seminar, they must:

1. Submit a weekly field report (every Monday) describing the field placement activities and experience for the duration of the placement.
2. Complete all assignments of the analysis of practice at the dates identified in the course outline. A full description of the requirements for these assignments is available in the course outline.
3. Organize a minimum of two conference calls between the student, the Field Supervisor and the Field Placement Coordinator to discuss the Field Placement Agreement and the performance of the student.
4. Submit, in a timely manner, all necessary documents related to the management of the field placement (Field Placement Agreement, Ethics Form, Work Record, Insurance Form, mid-term and final evaluation) at the dates indicated in the Course Outline.

Please note that the student is responsible for all expenses related to a placement outside the region.

Paid placements and volunteer work

Students participating in a field placement do not receive financial compensation. There are no exceptions to this policy which seeks to ensure the field placement focuses on learning opportunities rather than productivity. Work and placement activities must be completely separate. In this regard, the Department does not allow for placements to become paid positions or for paid positions to become placements. Furthermore, to ensure new learning opportunities, previous volunteer work cannot become a field placement.

5. Presenting your candidacy to the Field Placement Agency

The role of the Field Placement Coordinator

When the Field Placement Coordinators have met with all of the eligible students, they contact the agencies to present the candidates. The Field Placement Coordinators will then contact the students to advise them of the procedure the agency has put in place to consider the candidacy of each student.

The student’s responsibilities: sending a copy of the resume and cover letter

Once the Field Placement Coordinator has confirmed a placement opportunity, students must send a copy of their resume and cover letter to the Field Supervisor at the designated agency as soon as possible and without delay. Following this step, Field Supervisors may or may not invite students to an interview.

The student’s responsibility: preparing and attending the interview

The interview allows the agency’s Field Supervisor to determine whether proper supervision can be provided for the interested student - the student, in turn, can assess whether or not the activities of the agency meets his or her learning objectives. It is important the student follow up with the agency in a timely fashion. It is the student’s responsibility to make themselves available for an interview during the agency’s normal operation hours.

It is important for students to prepare for this interview by updating their resume, gathering information about the agency and preparing a list of questions for the Field Supervisor. Students are encouraged to seek the assistance of the Field Placement Coordinators in this process.

The student must quickly advise the Field Placement Coordinator of the results of the interview. If other arrangements prove necessary, they should be made without delay.

6. Security Clearance

Most agencies who accept placement students require them to have a security clearance check. This may involve conducting a police records check or doing a more thorough investigation. Students who have concerns or questions regarding this requirement should contact the Field Placement Coordinators. Note that some investigations take a long time. Therefore, it is recommended that students begin this process as early as possible in the field assignment process. It is the student’s responsibility to pay the fees normally associated with the security clearance process. Please consult the Office of Risk Management of the University of Ottawa for more information on police record checks: https://orm.uottawa.ca/clinical-placement/police-check
How do I prepare for my placement?

In preparation for the placement, students must:

- Ensure that they have completed the activities related to security clearance as required by the field placement agency. (ex: Criminal Record Checks);
- Initiate reading on the placement agency and become familiar with its activities;
- Communicate with the Field Supervisor two weeks before the start of the placement to confirm starting dates, meeting times and location, dress code, etc.;
- Attend the Pre-Field Placement training at the Department of Criminology.
POLICIES GOVERNING FIELD WORK

1. The Field Placement Agreement (see template on Field Placement Website)

During the first weeks of the placement, students, in collaboration with their Field Supervisors and Field Placement Coordinator complete a draft Field Placement Agreement. The objectives of the agreement are to outline:

- the student’s responsibilities and tasks;
- the student's learning objectives;
- the supervision modalities;
- the methods of evaluation;
- the work schedule.

The Agreement must reflect the learning objectives set out by the Department of Criminology, (see objectives in this guide) the personal and professional objectives of the student and the learning opportunities offered by the organization.

The Agreement is an official and professional document. A meeting during the third week of placement between the Field Placement Coordinator, the Field Supervisor and the student is scheduled to discuss a draft copy of the Agreement. Following this meeting, and once the appropriate changes have been made to the Agreement, the document is signed by the Student, the Field Supervisor and the Field Placement Coordinator.

Specific questions related to this agreement will be discussed during the pre-placement training and in the seminar.

2. Student’s Statement of Ethics (See template on Field Placement Website)

On their first day, students complete the "Student's Statement of Ethics" form, have it signed by their Field Supervisor and submit it to the Field Placement Coordinator.

3. Supervision of Field Placement Students

Supervision of students is assumed jointly by the University and the host agency:

At the Department of Criminology, students receive regular supervision through meetings with the Field Placement Coordinator and participation in the Field Placement Seminar CRM 6345.

Moreover, the Department plans meetings in the workplace between the student, the Field Supervisor and the Department’s Field Placement Coordinator. There are two planned meetings in the field during the placement period. In the first meeting, the student, Field Supervisor and Field Placement Coordinator review the Field Placement Agreement. In the second meeting, they discuss the performance evaluation.

The Field Placement Coordinator is always available to discuss experiences, problems, and solutions to these problems with the students and the Field Supervisors.

However, the Department must limit its involvement, which means that the quality of the student’s experience depends largely on the guidance and supervision provided by the Field Supervisor.
In the workplace, guidance is provided by the Field Supervisor who is an experienced, regular member of the organization, and who has agreed to supervise a field placement student. The supervisor, as the main source of information and instruction, acts as the student's reference point in the workplace. Supervisors thus play an extremely important role, and that is why they are asked to hold regular discussions with the students either during the work session, or after each work period, or even after each assignment. Supervision can therefore vary in intensity according to the nature of the field placement and the student's acquired experience; the discussions, however, must take place regularly.

With the above factors in mind, the University asks the Field Supervisors:

1. to become familiar with the Department's Field Placement Program and with the objectives of this program;
2. to prepare for the student's arrival by specifying the learning objectives of the placement, the duties involved, and the mode of supervision;
3. to discuss and complete the required documents related to the placement;
4. to introduce the student to the surroundings and other staff members;
5. to collaborate with the student and Field Placement Coordinator in the drafting of the Field Placement Agreement;
6. to help the student carry out assigned duties;
7. to hold discussions with the student on the experience provided by the placement;
8. to assess, at regular intervals, the student's experience on the basis of the set objectives and of the prescribed Field Placement Program.
9. to advise the Field Placement Coordinator immediately if the student performs inadequately or to discuss issues related to the placement.

4. Schedule and Work Record (see template on the Field Placement Website)

Work hours vary according to the regular working hours of each agency. Some agencies require students to work evenings and weekends. These are to be negotiated at the time of the drafting of the agreement.

All students must maintain a Work Record during their placement. The Work Record must be signed by the Field Supervisor and submitted to the Field Placement Coordinator at the end of the placement. A minimum of 360 hours is required to successfully complete the placement.

Please note that travel to and from the field placement agency and lunch hours are not counted as hours towards the placement.

5. Non-Attendance and Holidays

When a student must be absent from his or her placement, he or she will notify the Field Supervisor. It is understood that students will make up their hours at a convenient time.

Students on placement normally benefit from the same holidays (Statutory Holidays, Holiday Season and Study Week) as regular students but this time away from the placement does not count as hours. Students who have been absent from their placement may make up the hours during school holidays. It is very important to discuss the schedule and time away from the placement with the Field Supervisor during the first few days of placement. To maintain stability and continuity, some agencies prefer that students work at their placement every week to avoid interruptions in case management or projects.
6. Evaluation of Field Placement Students

The student evaluations have two purposes:

1. to provide the Department of Criminology with an overall assessment of the student’s performance during the semester;
2. to provide the students with a comprehensive assessment of their abilities, quality of work performed and potential. Therefore, it is important to provide students with an opportunity to discuss their evaluation with the Field Supervisor. Students are required to acknowledge this opportunity by signing the form.

The mid-term evaluation (see template on Field Placement Website) is completed in the middle of the placement by the Field Supervisor. The main goal of this evaluation is to assess the relevance of the learning objectives and tasks, the general performance of the student and the quality of supervision and learning environment and to re-adjust the agreement if necessary. Students are also required to complete a mid-term auto-evaluation.

The final evaluation (see template on Field Placement Website), completed at the end of the field placement by the supervisor, provides an opportunity to assess the performance of the student in relation to the learning objectives, acquired abilities, skills and knowledge. Students are also required to complete a final auto-evaluation of their performance in the field.

The final evaluation is submitted at the end of the term. The Field Placement Coordinator determines the final mark for CRM 6400 by reviewing the evaluations submitted by the supervisor, the discussions/meetings involving the supervisor and the student and the student’s performance in the Field Placement Seminar. The final mark is a S (satisfactory) or NS (not satisfactory).

7. Problem-solving in the field placement setting

The field placement setting provides a learning opportunity for criminology students. Learning to solve problems with flexibility, creativity and tolerance is essential to the personal and professional development of all students. Here are the proposed guidelines for problem-solving:

Step I:

a) Gain a better understanding of the problem by determining the facts of the situation;
b) Identify the needs and interests of the persons involved in the situation;
c) Determine the common objectives of all parties;
d) Devise possible strategies or solutions to the problem;
e) Be discreet.

Step II:

a) Discuss the situation with the Field Placement Supervisor;
b) Determine, with your Field Placement Supervisor, a plan of action for resolving the problem;

Step III:
a) If the issue or problem is not resolved once you have discussed it with your Field Supervisor, advise the Field Placement Coordinator;
b) A meeting can be set up between the Field Placement Supervisor, the Coordinator and the student in an attempt to resolve the issue.

8. Terminating a field placement

The established university policy regarding course drops also applies to the Field Placement. It should be noted, however, that because of the time and work commitment made during the matching process, students are highly discouraged from dropping this course for casual reasons. Therefore, students are encouraged to pursue their placement and address issues that could jeopardize their practical training.

Please note that the field placement (CRM 6400) and the field placement seminar (CRM 6345) are interdependent. Therefore, in order to successfully complete this component of their program of study, student must successfully complete both the academic and the practical segment. The Department reserves the right to terminate the placement of any student if it is determined that the student’s performance is inadequate with respect to either or both the academic segment and/or the practical segment.

Academic segment (CRM 6345): inadequate performance is viewed as failure to attend seminars without providing reasonable notice and justification, failure to participate in class activities, or failure to complete assignments in an acceptable manner.

Practical segment (CRM 6400): placement may be terminated if it is determined that the student has failed to adequately meet the learning objectives set out in the Field Placement Agreement or that the performance of the student is unsatisfactory.

Before any placement is terminated, the Coordinator will meet with the student and the Field Supervisor to determine the exact nature of the problem and to rectify the situation. Continued performance difficulties, however, can result in premature termination and as a failure to complete the course requirements of the Field Placement Program. Except in special circumstances, students will not be permitted to repeat the field placement.

Placements may also be terminated if it is determined that the agency is not providing an adequate work setting or supervision of the student. Before a placement is terminated, the Coordinator will meet with the student and Field Supervisor to determine the exact nature of the problem in an attempt to rectify the situation. If termination is required for reasons that are not related to inadequate performance by the student, alternative arrangements will be made to allow the student to complete the field placement without jeopardizing the student’s practical training. For this reason, students are advised to inform the Coordinator as soon as difficulties become evident.

9. Workplace safety and insurance coverage

Workplace Safety Training

You must partake in all training offered by the placement agency and the Department of Criminology pertaining to workplace safety (for example Workplace Hazard and Material Information System (WHMIS), emergency procedures, or specific procedures on how to undertake certain activities or tasks) to ensure the safety of all parties.

Insurance Coverage while on placement

Insurance coverage is provided for medical and related expenses in the event of an injury or occupational illness that occurred while on a placement you are doing for academic credit that is organized by the Department.

There are two categories of coverage for students completing a non-paid placement that is mandatory to their program of study. The first is when the placement takes place in Ontario, with an organization that is required to be registered with the Ontario WSIB (of note, the federal government is not registered with the Ontario WSIB). In these cases, the coverage is provided by the WSIB.

When the placement takes place anywhere in the world outside Ontario, or with an organization not registered with the Ontario WSIB (such as the federal government), the coverage is provided by a private insurer by the name of ACE-INA.

If you are an international student (i.e., in Canada on a student visa), this coverage applies for you anywhere in the world that you are undertaking your placement, except your home country. Your home country is defined as the country that issued the passport you obtained your student visa with.

As indicated, this coverage is only applicable if your injury or illness was a result of your placement activities. As injuries can occur outside your placement activities, such as on your way to your placement location, during your meals or breaks etc., it is strongly recommended that you have in place supplemental medical and dental insurance.

In case of Accident or Occupational Illness

When an accident occurs, the first priority is to get appropriate first aid. Once this is completed, you must report the incident to your placement agency (your supervisor or another employee of the organization) and the Field Placement Coordinator at the Department of Criminology.

Depending on the type of placement you are completing, there will be various forms that must be completed. Please consult the following website for more information:

http://www.uottawa.ca/services/ehss/WSIBAccidentReporting.htm

As part of the reporting and follow up processes, your personal information will be disclosed to the insurance providers. Their use of this information is restricted to addressing your particular insurance claim.

Both the placement agency and the Department of Criminology will work with you to accommodate any restrictions or other accommodations that are required following your accident or illness.
Student Declaration of Understanding

The Council of Ontario Universities (COU) is requiring that all students sign a Student Declaration of Understanding. Form available online: http://socialsciences.uottawa.ca/crm/field-placement-undergraduate

Questions

If you have any questions about any of the information, or your particular situation, please contact the Office of Risk Management at safety@uottawa.ca or 613-562-5892.

10. Responsibility in case of accident

The Department of Criminology and the University of Ottawa are not responsible for accidents in which students may be involved during their work in field placement agencies. Those wishing to use their own vehicle should purchase the necessary automobile and personal insurance before their field placement begins.